Pat started playing baseball when he was in junior high school. He also played other sports, like tennis and basketball, but baseball was special for him. He practiced hard every day, and he became the best high school baseball player in our city. After he finished high school, he joined one of the most famous baseball teams, the New York Big Apples. Since then, he has played for that team for more than fifteen years. He always makes us excited when he plays in a game.
